Dear Colleague,

Trial Ball Blanket/Cushion Agreement: Important information. Please read the following and sign and return the enclosed copy to us. We will then be able to process your request.

If you work within an organisation (eg Social Services/NHS) that uses a formal order number system, please provide us with an official order accepting the terms below before we can proceed.

Kingkraft are able to provide a loan service on the following conditions:

The blankets/cushions are provided to you from our used loan stock. They have been pre-used but have been carefully cleaned and prepared for dispatch. However Kingkraft can accept no liability for the condition in which they are received by you.

When they are received, please check them carefully for damage or contamination which may have occurred during shipment. In case of doubt, do not use and contact Kingkraft for advice on the number shown.

Please ensure that the incontinence cover provided is placed over the ball blanket prior to use, the blanket should then be placed inside a single duvet cover.

The blankets/cushions are loaned to you on a trial basis for a period of 14-21 days from the date of shipment. A proforma invoice is included with the blanket. If the blanket/cushions are returned to Kingkraft within the 14-21 day period (return instructions are enclosed with the support) no charges will be applicable. If the blanket/cushion is not returned or it is returned in a damaged or soiled condition, the full cost shown on the invoice will be charged by Kingkraft and the matter passed to our credit recovery department.

I accept the above terms and conditions and enclose an official order (if applicable).
